1. Claims 23-29, 31, 33-34 are pending in the application and are currently under prosecution.

Election/Restriction

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Claim 23 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising methods which differ at least in objectives, method steps, reagents and/or dosages and/or schedules used, response variables, and criteria for success, wherein the method is (a) carried out in vitro as contemplated in the specification, (b) in vivo as contemplated in the specification as claimed.

3. Upon election of a species above, species (a) and (b), species (a) and (b) are further found to be generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising methods which differ at least in objectives, method steps, reagents and/or dosages and/or schedules used, response variables, and criteria for success, wherein the polypeptide is introduced into the cell by (c) contacting the cell with the polypeptide, (d) introducing a nucleic acid that encodes the polypeptide.

4. Upon election of a species above, species (c) and (d), species (c) and (d) are further found to be generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising methods which differ at least in objectives, method steps, reagents and/or dosages and/or schedules used, response variables, and criteria for success, wherein the polypeptide introduced into the cell is (e) is a wild-type 5' T-box sequence of TBX5 capable of binding to both the major and minor groove target of DNA as contemplated in the specification, (f) lacks a translated 3' T-box sequence of TBX5 capable of binding to the minor groove.

5. Upon election of a species above, species (e) and (f), species (e) and (f) are further found to be generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising methods which differ at least in objectives, method steps, reagents and/or dosages and/or schedules used, response variables, and criteria for success, wherein the cell into which the polypeptide is introduced is (g) a malignant cell, (h) a non-malignant post-embryonic cell, (i) an embryonic cell as contemplated in the specification.

6. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 of the other invention.

7. Applicant is advised that a response to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

8. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP 809.02(a).

9. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103, the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 C.F.R. 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103.

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. 1.17(h).

11. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

12. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
